

the Liquid Kitchen

The Liquid Kitchen is a no-frills, rock & roll band. With straightforward grooves, tube driven guitar riffs, clever lyrics, and the desire to awaken the spirit of rock music from decades past. TLK is driven by an insatiable need to bring the heart , creativity, and the rebellion of rock & roll in order to connect with today's listeners.

TLK is headed by lead songwriter and rhythm guitarist Jason E. Landry, from Port Arthur, Texas. Jason brings to TLK a soulful voice, and a captivating stage presence, constantly challenging himself to connect with the audience. Jason is also the chief sound engineer and producer for TLK.

Gio da Silva is the lead guitarist and songwriter for TLK. Gio brings considerable knowledge of blues, rock, country, and jazz styles to TLK, as well as a lot of energy and an almost obsessive-compulsive tone quest.

TLK is all about loud guitars, showmanship, and writing songs that the audience can connect to, both in content and in vibe. As a band we believe it is our mission to do our part to revive pure rock music.
